NCWorks Career Centers Fully Reopened to the Public

Washington, N.C. – In accordance with Executive Order #204, the NCWorks Career Centers in Beaufort, Bertie, Hertford, Martin, and Pitt counties are now fully reopened to the public with no appointment necessary effective Monday, April 5, 2021.

Jennie Bowen, Workforce Development Director, said “We are excited to make this announcement and to now have the opportunity to provide both in person and virtual services to our customers. The last 12 months have taught us all to be resourceful and resilient. I believe virtual services are here to stay but specific in person services remain a critical component to our overall workforce mission and service delivery system.”

Director Bowen went on to say that customers will be asked to come to the center alone, practice social distancing, and wear a mask while in the center. Masks and hand sanitizer will be available.

The centers will continue offering virtual services to individuals who may not feel comfortable coming in person to receive services. To set up a virtual appointment, call text, or email your local NCWorks Career Center. Center contact information is listed below:
